ABOUT ME

Hello there! My name is Hunter, I'm a full-stack software engineer hailing from Melbourne. I first became curious about programming by way of video games, but then discovered the limitlessness of web development, and in 2022 I enrolled in a higher diploma of information technology and never looked back. Now I get to spend my days building robust features for SwiftFox, a CRM startup, while finding any excuse to build side projects borne of my hobbies and curiosities 🌱.

EXPERIENCE

SOFTWARE ENGINEER
SwiftFox | 2022 - Current

Key Responsibilities

- Build and maintain features across the entire CRM ecosystem (front and back-end).
- Mentorship and guidance for newer team members, including coding standards, PR reviews, and best practices.
- Collaborate with UX/UI designers and Product Team to create the best user and developer experiences.

Achievements

- Project lead on SwiftFox Automations, a complex feature where users can automate any trigger/action in the CRM.
- Project lead on integrating Open AI into the SwiftFox ecosystem.
